

GLOBAL HEALTH STUDIES

2017-2018 HIGHLIGHTS

BY THE NUMBERS:

307

students enrolled in the GHS program - a record high

105

students enrolled in the new adjunct major

18

students admitted to the new Accelerated Public Health Program: five-year combined bachelor and master of public health (MPH) degree program, a partnership between GHS and the Feinberg School of Medicine

34

students received funding from the Bhogaraju, Mabie, Hill-Urbina, and Radulovacki families for research and study abroad in Bosnia-Herzegovina, China, France, Kenya, Mexico, Serbia, Sierra Leone, Tanzania, the Texas/Mexico border, and Uganda

82

students graduated with a GHS degree - a record high

7

graduating seniors received or were admitted to prestigious fellowships and programs such as Fulbright, Princeton in Africa, Project Horseshoe Farm, and One Acre Fund

PROGRAM NEWS

- Faculty member Noelle Sullivan was awarded the Charles Deering McCormick Distinguished Lecturer Award
- Assistant Director Gregory Buchanan was awarded a Fulbright Administrator's Grant to India
- The Program in Global Health Studies received the prestigious Heiskell Award for Innovation in International Education by the Institute for International Education (IIE)
- Establishment of three new endowed funds: Frost-Sable Fellowship Fund, John and Nancy Watkins Endowed Fund in Global Health, and Radulovacki Visiting Scholars Fund

Summer 2018: Northwestern alumnus and donor Brad Radulovacki visited the "Comparative Public Health: Serbia and Bosnia-Herzegovina" study abroad program led by Professor Peter Locke