It Just Feels Right

It is important to have a good feeling about where your child is spending their day. At University Children’s Center, we provide a comfortable atmosphere that is immediately welcoming to children and families. Our personal attention to the child and the parent helps welcome everyone into our center.

“Every staff person (teacher, director, etc.) with whom we have interacted truly seems to put the children first. Other teachers we see in the hall even know my child’s name and seem to have an honest interest in his happiness and development.”

“Choosing a stimulating environment for our daughter was important to us. After looking into different options for our toddler, we chose University Children’s Center. We were impressed by the energetic classes and bright play areas. The curriculum offered structure and flexibility to help her learn in a safe environment.”

Safety is Key

The safety of the children in our care is our number one priority, and it shows. The school uses a coded keypad to control access to any area where the children play. Safety procedures are regularly updated and posted in classrooms and common areas. All equipment is scheduled for regular maintenance and safety checks to prevent accidents.

“The staff and teachers are amazing. I feel so comfortable dropping off my child every day and it makes my day at work so much easier and pleasant knowing he’s in good hands.”

More than Qualified

Having a staff that is experienced and able to provide stimulating experiences for the children is another area of focus for University Children’s Center. But we don’t stop there! When we look to hire the best teachers for our school, we look first at how they interact with children and how much they enjoy the relationship.
“It’s been very reassuring to know that even if my child is upset at drop off that she’ll have three teachers she loves there to watch her throughout the day. I also know that the day is packed with fun, whether it’s a new art project, visiting the preschool, or going on a walk. Her three teachers have been doing a fantastic job and I just want you to know how much I appreciate their hard work!”

We provide detailed lesson plans so that our teachers can focus on ensuring that the lesson is individualized for each child. Our teachers have more hands-on time to spend with the children, making sure that they understand and actively engage in activities.

The Employer-Sponsored Difference

We go above and beyond to make children and parents feel at home. Our partnership with Northwestern University takes that one step further. Michelle Swanson-Mungerson, Ph.D., Post-Doctoral Fellow for the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine, as well as a happy parent, states, “For us, the center has been a godsend. When my maternity leave was over, I knew that it would be difficult to leave my first child. However, I was fortunate enough to have this center close to where I work. The close proximity allowed me to visit my son every day on my lunch hour and continue breastfeeding. The staff acknowledged my desire to continue breastfeeding and they helped make it easy.”
