

Call for entries

One-Book-One-Northwestern invites
Artists, Scientists, Programmers

to celebrate
Darwin's 200th Birthday
February 12, 2009

Students, faculty, and staff are invited to submit pieces for an exhibit on the theme of Darwin and evolution. The exhibit will open Darwin's birthday celebration and will be on display at the Norris Center from February 12-17.

Cash prizes will be awarded!

How to submit

Create something new in honor of the event, or submit your existing work. Email a photo attachment or a link to your submission to:

cmatuk@u.northwestern.edu by 11:59pm on February 6, 2009

Need ideas?

Paint a social commentary; draw a political cartoon; display your biological simulations, and scientific visualizations; demonstrate your educational software design; or show off your evolutionary algorithmic programming skills!

Criteria

Your piece should be related to the theme of Darwin and/or evolution, and be of reasonable dimensions for exhibiting.

Questions?

Contact Camillia Matuk cmatuk@u.northwestern.edu
<http://www.northwestern.edu/onebook/>

