2013 Wildcat Excellence Awards

The awards ceremony is June 4th at 5:30pm. Nominations are due no later than May 15, 2013.

We are accepting nominations for the following awards:

Highest Order of Excellence Society
This award is awarded to 3-5 students who have displayed outstanding leadership through involvement at Northwestern University. Candidates for this award capitalize on different talents and perspectives of group members to invoke innovative ideas. Display congruence in convictions and morals when leading and have an approach that empowers others.

Contributing Student Leader Award
This award is given to two students of differing genders, who are a sophomore, junior or senior not currently holding an executive board position in a student, community, or work organization.

This student demonstrates a tremendous contribution to the success and vitality of an organization, but does not hold a formal leadership role within the organization.

The award will be awarded based on:

- Extracurricular involvement at Northwestern
- Demonstrated awareness of beliefs, values, attitudes, and emotions
- Commitment to an organization, community group, or work environment

Emerging Leader Award
This award is given to two freshman students of differing genders not currently holding an executive board position in a student, community, or work organization that demonstrates tremendous leadership potential on or off campus.

This award is based on the student's extracurricular involvement at Northwestern; demonstrated awareness of beliefs, values, attitudes, and emotions; and a commitment to an organization, community group, or work environment.
Community Enrichment Award
This award recognizes students who have significantly contributed to the improvement of the quality of student life at Northwestern. We seek to recognize students, who have impacted our community through program development and implementation, bridging cultural differences, or who have taken responsibility for, and worked collectively with, others to create a more engaged and inclusive campus community.

Outstanding Community Service Event
This award is awarded to an undergraduate student organization that conducted an outstanding one-time community service event on or off campus.

Outstanding On-going Community Service Program
This award is given to an undergraduate student organization that conducted an outstanding on-going community service program on or off campus.

Excellence in Diversity Programming
The award is awarded to an undergraduate student organization that has displayed exceptional awareness of cultural diversity through innovative programming efforts.

Outstanding Theatrical Production
This award is awarded to an undergraduate student organization that has produced an outstanding theatrical production.

Outstanding Performing Arts Production
This award is awarded to an undergraduate student organization that has produced an outstanding performing arts production (non-theater: a capella, dance, step-show, etc.).

Outstanding Graduate Student Organization
This award is awarded to a graduate or professional student organization that has demonstrated, through programming, a commitment to embracing and improving the Northwestern community.

Outstanding New Student Organization
The award is awarded to a new (existing no more than two years) undergraduate student organization that has demonstrated outstanding potential toward improving the Northwestern community.

Outstanding Undergraduate Student Organization
This award is awarded to an undergraduate student organization that has demonstrated outstanding commitment to embracing and improving the Northwestern community.
