Study Abroad Billing & Financial Aid
Summer 2015

Northwestern Summer Programs
Northwestern will bill you for your study abroad tuition or program fee through CAESAR. Check your program’s website for details about your program costs and billing arrangements.

If you have confirmed your intent to participate in summer study abroad and have been registered successfully, you will receive your summer invoice through CAESAR on May 10th, and payment will be due on June 1st. If you confirm or are registered after May 10th, you will receive your summer study abroad invoice on June 10th, and payment will be due on July 1st.

Your invoice will show a charge for the regular NU summer tuition amount ($3,903 per credit unit), along with a Study Abroad Differential, increasing or decreasing your charges to make your invoice equal to the cost of your summer program. For example:

- If your study abroad program registers you for two credits, your invoice will display a tuition charge of $7,806 ($3,903 x 2). If your program actually costs $10,000, your Northwestern invoice will also include a differential charge of $2,194, increasing your total charges to the program fee.
- If your program registers you for three credits, your invoice will display a tuition charge of $11,709 ($3,903 x 3). If the program only costs $8,500, your invoice will also contain a differential credit of $3,209, reducing your total charges to the cost of the program.
- If applicable to your program, the Study Abroad Administrative Fee for summer 2015 is $875.

Non-Northwestern Summer Programs
Northwestern will only bill you for the Study Abroad Administrative Fee ($875). This charge will appear on your May 10th invoice, and payment will be due on June 1st. Your study abroad program sponsor will bill you directly for all other program fees.

Financial Aid & Loans
If you are attending an NU-sponsored summer program and plan to apply for summer financial aid and/or loans, your summer aid application should be submitted no later than April 24th. Make sure to accept your summer aid/loans and complete all loan application requirements before you leave for your study abroad program.

If you will have excess funds from your financial aid or loans, you should set up direct deposit in CAESAR (different from payroll/work-study direct deposit). You can request your financial aid refund either through CAESAR as early as June 22nd, or as early as June 15th by completing the Study Abroad Release of Funds form, which can be found on the Study Abroad Office website and the Undergraduate Financial Aid website.
