KELLOGG'S MIAMI CAMPUS

Introduction

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (Clery Act) is a federal law that requires colleges and universities to disclose certain timely and annual information about campus crime and security policies. The material that follows is designed to familiarize you with issues of safety and security at the Northwestern University, Kellogg School of Management - Miami Campus located in Coral Gables, Florida. We rely on every community member to contribute to security on campus by reporting crime and suspicious activities in a timely manner and using common sense when going about daily activities. Safety is a shared responsibility. We hope that you will use the information to help foster a safe environment for yourself and others.

Kellogg's - Miami Campus administrative and classroom areas are located on the first floor in The Alhambra Plaza building (Two Alhambra Plaza) and Alhambra West (95 Merrick Way) in Coral Gables. The school is a commuter campus. Northwestern University does not own or lease any student residences and there are no officially recognized off-campus student organizations.

The Northwestern University Police Department is responsible for preparing and distributing this pamphlet. We work with the Kellogg - Miami Campus administration, the Coral Gables Police Department and a number of other University departments, such as Student Affairs, University Relations, and the Office of the General Counsel to compile this information. Contact Northwestern University Police Deputy Chief Daniel McAleer at d-mcaleer@northwestern.edu / (847) 491-3256 if you have any questions or comments about this material. Do not hesitate to call University Police should the need arise.

Data Collection / Publication

The Coral Gables Police Department and Kellogg – Miami Campus administrators are contacted and asked to provide crime, arrest and student disciplinary referral (Kellogg only) data as required by the Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Crime Statistics Act. If reports in these categories are made to the Northwestern University Police Department, those incidents are also included in the totals.

As statistics are available from these sources, they are then reported in this pamphlet and on-line on the Northwestern University Police and U.S. Department of Education web sites. University community members are notified of the availability of the pamphlet and related web address (<http://www.northwestern.edu/up/jeanne/jeanne.html>) via a campus wide e-mail sent to Northwestern community members. Paper copies of this pamphlet are also available from University Police upon request.

Role of University Police

Kellogg's - Miami Campus does not have Northwestern University security or police officers on site. The Alhambra Plaza Building Management provides security and is responsible for safety, security, and maintenance issues in the building. Should you need to contact University Police, the Department is operational 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Northwestern University Police does not have formal written memoranda of understanding for the formal investigation of alleged University related crimes with the Coral Gables Police Department or other local or state of Florida law enforcement agencies. University Police has requested the Coral Gables Police Department to provide timely notification of situations on or off campus that could pose a serious and/or ongoing threat to the Kellogg – Miami Campus community. University Police, as notified, will maintain communication with local law enforcement and request status reports on these types on incidents. In addition, University Police will collaborate with the Coral Gables Police Department and/or other local or state law enforcement agencies as formally requested by the investigating agency.

Crime and Emergency Reporting

Kellogg's - Miami campus safety and security are dependent upon the teamwork of all members of the campus community. Students, employees, and guests are encouraged to immediately report crimes, suspicious activity, accidents and other emergencies to local law enforcement and the Alhambra Building Management office (during business hours) or the Alhambra security dispatch office (after business hours). University officials can also assist students in notifying the appropriate law enforcement agency.

If you choose to report an incident to the police, an officer will take a statement which may include asking you to provide available offender information, and answering questions about the scene of the crime, the identity of any witnesses, and ask what happened before and after the incident. You may have a support person with you during the interview. Note, reporting an incident is a separate step from choosing to prosecute. You are not obligated to continue with legal proceedings.

Campus Security Authorities (CSA)

To further encourage the timely reporting of incidents affecting the campus community, the following Kellogg program administrators have been designated as primary Campus Security Authorities (CSA) to whom crimes, emergencies, safety, and security issues are reported:

Carolina Pina, Associate Director Executive Education
c-pina@kellogg.northwestern.edu / (305) 442-7287

Liu Necuze, Program Assistant
l-necuze@kellogg.northwestern.edu / (305) 442-7780

CSA's are officials with "significant responsibility" for students and campus activities. They are campus officials who manage or otherwise oversee student and campus activities. Some examples of CSA's include University Police staff, deans, directors, department heads, athletic coaches, student group advisors and activities coordinators, community assistants in residence halls, residential life area coordinators, student center officials, and judicial affairs officials. Crimes reported to CSA's may not have been reported to the Police. This is often the case in incidents of sexual assault. A licensed or certified counselor, who is functioning within that scope at the time a crime is reported, is not considered a CSA and not required to report crimes but is encouraged to review crime reporting options with reporting parties.

The CSA crime report form, definitions sheet and corresponding PowerPoint training resource are available on the University Police website in the Campus Security Authority section at <http://www.northwestern.edu/up/jeanne/jeanne.html>. On a timely basis, CSA's are required to forward completed CSA crime report forms to the attention of Associate Vice-President of Public Safety and Chief of Police Bruce Lewis at Northwestern University Police on the Evanston campus. Timely notification of crimes and/or other emergencies by community members to University Police and/or a CSA will allow Northwestern University personnel the opportunity to review whether or not a Crime/Security Alert should be issued and will assist Northwestern University in maintaining accurate crime data.

Anonymous Reporting

Northwestern University permits victims or witnesses to report crimes to CSA's on a voluntary, anonymous basis (and includes such anonymous reports in reported crime totals) but encourages individuals who report crime to provide identifying information. The purpose of this type of report is to comply with the reporting party's wish to keep the matter anonymous, while taking steps to contribute to future campus safety. With such data, the University can maintain accurate records of the number of incidents and determine if there is a pattern of crime with regard to a particular location, method, or offender, and as appropriate alert the community to potential danger. The University Police Department, unless otherwise prescribed by law, does not take anonymous police reports.

Responding to Sexual Assault

Any University student or employee who is aware of a sexual assault is encouraged to immediately contact the Coral Gables Police Department, a designated Kellogg – Miami Campus CSA, and University Police. Whether or not a sexual assault survivor decides to report an incident to police, the survivor is encouraged to immediately seek medical treatment and access counseling resources. CSA's and University Police can assist in reviewing options and identifying and facilitating support resources which include: medical attention; legal procedures; University administrative procedures / options; counseling opportunities; and contact with appropriate University and community services.

Medical Attention

It is important to seek immediate and follow-up medical attention for several reasons. These include assessing and treating any physical injuries, determining the risk of sexually transmitted diseases or pregnancy, and gathering evidence that could aid criminal prosecution. Physical evidence should be collected immediately, ideally within the first 24 hours. It may be collected later than this, but the quality and quantity of the evidence may be diminished. Even if a survivor has not been physically hurt, the medical examination is strongly recommended to maintain all legal options. After the evidence is collected, it can be stored in case criminal charges are pressed at some later date.

Counseling and Support Resources

Students can talk confidentially about a sexual assault with a University mental health professional at Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) / (847) 491-2151. The University Women's Center / (847) 491-7360 and the Health Promotion and Wellness Department / (847) 491-4618 also serve as sexual assault survivor resources and provide support services. To access information about sexual assault response options and procedures, visit http://groups.northwestern.edu/senatedocs/news/sexual_assault.pdf. The University resources mentioned above and local law enforcement agencies can provide a list of local sexual assault support resources. University employees can access counseling support through Perspectives, a contracted employee assistance program. To contact Perspectives, call (800) 456-6327. For additional information, visit <http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/plans/fsap/>.

Notifying University Police

Reporting a sexual assault to local law enforcement and University Police will assist in gaining information that may lead to the arrest of an offender or aid in the investigation of other assaults. The investigation and prosecution, or discipline, of the suspect may help prevent future assaults. Reporting the incident to police does not mean a sexual assault survivor is obligated to take the offender to court (i.e., prosecute). In addition to or instead of possible criminal prosecution, a student may also choose to pursue a complaint against another University student through the Sexual Assault Hearing and Appeals System (SAHAS).

The University Police Department has a written guarantee for sexual assault survivors. This guarantee reflects our concern for survivors and emphasizes sensitivity, privacy and the need for trust and confidence. The primary concern is for the survivor. For additional information, visit <http://www.northwestern.edu/up/crime/sexual.html#guarantee>.

If you are a victim (survivor) of a sexual assault:

1. Get to a safe place as soon as possible. Following an assault, the primary concern is for the sexual assault survivor's safety. Contact someone you trust to be with you and support you.
2. Seek medical attention as soon as possible to ensure physical well-being.

3. Try to preserve all physical evidence. Do not bathe, shower, or change clothes before seeking medical attention. Preserving evidence is important in later pursuing a criminal or other judicial case.
4. Consider reporting the incident to University Police and/or a CSA who can provide support and identify available resources.
5. Talk with a counselor who will help explain your options, and provide relevant information and emotional support. If a student survivor chooses not to go through the legal system and the perpetrator is University affiliated, there are disciplinary and non-disciplinary options available through Northwestern University. A student survivor can discuss these options by contacting the Director of Judicial Affairs at (847) 491-4582.

Academic Assistance

Students who allege sexual assault by another student may request to change their academic situations after the alleged incident takes place if such changes are reasonably available. For additional information, contact one of the designated Kellogg – Miami Campus CSA's listed in the "Campus Security Authorities" section.

Emergency Preparedness

A designated Kellogg representative is a member of the Alhambra emergency and evacuation team. Per The Alhambra Tenant Handbook and Emergency Manual, all members of the emergency and evacuation team must attend informational meetings and forums offered by the Fire Department, Police Department and the Alhambra Building Management office. These sessions are designed to illustrate the need for a fire action plan, demonstrate the proper use of building fire suppression equipment and familiarize everyone with the specific evacuation plan of the building. The Alhambra Building Management office may be contacted for assistance and review of the building emergency preparedness and evacuation plan.

Building evacuation is necessary when a fire alarm signal is sounded. Each tenant is obligated to follow approved / established Alhambra building emergency preparedness and evacuation plans. Kellogg students and employees are encouraged to review The Alhambra Tenant Handbook and Emergency Manual for specific information on fire safety, bomb threats, natural disasters, medical emergencies, civil disturbances, power failures and related emergency building response and evacuation procedures.

Emergency Notification

In the event of an actual emergency, Northwestern University has contracted with Connect-ED, a company that specializes in mass notification systems. Using the Connect-ED system, Northwestern is able to rapidly call / send a recorded message, e-mail and text message to the entire campus community. Because Northwestern might need to contact you before you arrive on campus in an urgent emergency situation, it is important that all possible means of contacting you at home and at work are current. In the event of an emergency, the Connect-ED system will call your cellular, home and work numbers simultaneously. For instructions on how University community members can enter or update their Emergency Contact information, visit: http://ses.northwestern.edu/documentation/SC_Maintain_Emergency_Info_Tip_Sheet_v9.pdf (Student) or <http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/hris/selfservice/online/directory/emergencynotification.pdf> (employee). The Connect-Ed system is tested quarterly.

Crime/Security Alerts

University Police issues Crime/Security Alerts, in a timely manner, to notify community members about certain crimes and safety issues that pose a serious and ongoing threat to Northwestern community members. Community members who know of or are advised of the occurrence of a crime or other serious incident should report that incident as soon as possible to University Police and/or a designated CSA so a Crime/Security Alert can be issued, if warranted. Crime/Security Alert distribution may include email, fax, voice message, text message, web posting and flyer.

Crime and Crime Prevention

Although Northwestern University and the on-site program administrators and staff work hard to ensure the safety of all individuals within our campus community, students and employees themselves must take responsibility for their own personal safety and property security. Kellogg's - Miami Campus is not a sanctuary from crime. Conditions that encourage criminal activities prevail in highly populated places, such as the tri-county area, which includes Coral Gables. Realizing you could be a victim is the first step in self-protection.

Simple, common sense proactive precautions are the most effective means of maintaining property security and personal safety. Students and employees who practice crime prevention can make this special community a safer place to learn and work. The common tenets of crime prevention are straight forward: remain alert and attentive to potential dangers; don't put yourself or your property at risk; and immediately report suspicious activity to the police. A safe and secure campus is everyone's responsibility.

Community members are encouraged to visit the University Police web site to access a variety of information on safety, security and crime prevention (<http://www.northwestern.edu/up/>). Monthly, University Police publishes and distributes the RAP Sheet. The RAP Sheet provides information on specific crime prevention topics, crime statistics and highlights Department and related University programming. Visit <http://www.northwestern.edu/up/rap/rap.html> to subscribe.

Theft

Theft prevention is the anticipation, recognition, and appraisal of a risk of theft and taking steps to reduce or remove that risk. The techniques outlined in this pamphlet are designed to reduce the opportunity for theft and increase the risk for a would-be thief.

- Lock your office or study area whenever you are absent.
- Secure all valuables out of sight during your absence.
- Don't leave valuables lying around in open areas which are unattended.
- Never leave valuables and property in plain view in a parked vehicle.
- Practice vigilance - watch for and immediately report suspicious activity and behavior. When contacting Police or security provide detailed information.
- Ask unescorted visitors entering your office to identify themselves and whom they are meeting.
- Request identification from persons who wish to repair or remove property.
- Immediately report all criminal incidents to local law enforcement, building security and a designated Kellogg CSA.

Local Crime Data

Coral Gables Police Department crime data is available on the web at: http://www.coralgables.com/CGWeb/dep_pol_stats.aspx.

Access to Campus Facilities and Building Security

Access to Kellogg's - Miami Campus space is limited to students participating in the program, employees, and those persons designated as guests. The main entrance doors to The Alhambra are open weekdays (excluding holidays), 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and are closed on weekends. Access to the building is available year round, 24-hours a day. To gain access to the building after hours, you must use the access card. Card readers are located at the main lobby and garage entrances. To gain access to the lobby or garage, simply place the card within 6 inches of the reader. Once the reader has validated your card, the door will unlock. The door will close and lock following your entry into the building.

On-site Security

The Alhambra lobby security station is located in the 1st floor lobby of the building. Security guards will be present at The Alhambra 24-hours a day, 7 days a week. Any suspicious activity should be immediately reported to the police and to the Alhambra Management Office at (305) 447-9191 (during regular business hours) or the Security Dispatch Office at (305) 446-2041 (after business hours).

Per The Alhambra Tenant Handbook and Emergency Manual, security “guard services are on behalf of the building owners and are for the protection of their interests in public (common) areas only” and “on-site security guards are generally powerless to assist or take police action in criminal matters in a tenant space, unless the guard personally witnesses a crime that constitutes a breach of the peace or unless a serious crime (felony) is involved”. All criminal activities should be reported immediately to the police and the building Safety / Evacuation Director so property management personnel can be ready to escort the police officers directly to the incident location.

Security Considerations in the Maintenance of Campus Facilities

The Alhambra has a staff of engineers and day porters on duty during normal business hours. Per The Alhambra Tenant Handbook and Emergency Manual, all non-emergency requests for lighting and maintenance services (including building and suite security related concerns) should be made in a timely manner directly to the Kellogg’s - Miami Campus tenant contact who will notify the property management office. The tenant contact is identified by the Kellogg’s - Miami Campus administration. On weekends, after hours and on holidays, the security dispatch office should be contacted. For contact information, see the Local / University Resources and Contact Information section.

Student Conduct

Students involved in any University activity, program, function, or sponsored event are subject to all University rules and regulations. The University Hearing and Appeals System (UHAS) has jurisdiction over all disciplinary matters, other than those arising because of unsatisfactory academic work, that have not been resolved administratively by the Division of Student Affairs and that may call for discipline of a student, group of students, or student organization of any school. As applicable, University community members are held accountable for their actions through state law, city ordinance and the University’s student disciplinary processes, including UHAS and the Sexual Assault Hearing and Appeals System (SAHAS). For more information, consult the Student Handbook which is available online at <http://www.northwestern.edu/handbook/>.

Alcohol and Other Drug Policies

Kellogg - Miami Campus community members are expected to be acquainted with and fulfill their obligations and responsibilities pursuant to university policy as well as state laws. Possession, use and/or sale of alcoholic beverages in Kellogg’s facilities are prohibited. This excludes usage at sanctioned events approved by Kellogg program administrators that are in compliance with state and federal laws related to alcohol. As applicable, University community members are held accountable for their actions through state law, city ordinance and the University’s student disciplinary processes, including UHAS and SAHAS.

Counseling Assistance

There are no University based drug or alcohol-abuse education programs available at the Kellogg’s - Miami Campus. Students are encouraged to contact Northwestern University Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS) to discuss any issues related to alcohol/drug abuse or for other support services that CAPS offers. Students who would like more information should contact CAPS at (847) 491-2151 or visit their web site at <http://www.northwestern.edu/counseling/index.html>. University employees can access counseling support through Perspectives, a contracted employee assistance program. Visit <http://www.northwestern.edu/hr/benefits/plans/fsap/> or call (800) 456-6327.
