“THE ART OF NONFICTION: TELLING STORIES”
with Writer in Residence Winter Quarter 2015
ALEX KOTLOWITZ
Mondays 2:00-4:50 pm

Alex Kotlowitz, CWA Writer in Residence for Winter Quarter 2014. Award-winning author of There Are No Children Here, The Other Side of the River, and Never a City So Real. Contributor to The New York Times Magazine and public radio’s This American Life. Alex Kotlowitz is renowned for his narratives of particular individuals whose concrete life experiences illuminate broad aspects of our nation’s social and political landscape.

COURSE DESCRIPTION: This course is open by application only to undergraduates.

This course will-through both reading and writing-explore the art of what is often called literary journalism, narrative nonfiction, or what John McPhee calls "the literature of fact." The best of nonfiction narrative wields a fierce power, poking and prodding our preconceptions of the world, pushing us to look at ourselves and others through a different prism. What makes for a compelling story? (What tools might we borrow from fiction?) Why employ the use of narrative? How does it help form our view of people and events? We'll explore the craft of reporting and research which borrows from a variety of disciplines, including anthropology, history and sociology - and work with rigor and discipline on the art of good writing. We'll read nonfiction narratives-both book and magazine articles-on a host of subjects, ranging from war and poverty to the environment and sports. We'll work in this class as a professional writer might, from draft to draft. There will be regular writing assignments, and students will be asked to craft a longer narrative on a subject of interest to them. The course will be run as a seminar, so there will be an emphasis on critical class discussion.

Here are some of the CTEC comments after taking his class –

 I loved this course! Alex pushed me to think critically and express my thoughts concisely .... he challenged me to understand what makes writing "good." ... He's dedicated to helping his students become good writers.

 This is going to go down as one of my favorite/most memorable class that I have taken at NU.

 I really felt my writing grew in his class and I believe I grew as a person as well.
