Summer Event Highlights

June/July 2022

Staring at the Dogwood Trees

When: Friday, 6/3-6/5/22, All Day

Where: Annie May Swift Hall, Krause Studio, 1920 Campus Drive

Cost: Free

Contact: Jenny Gurley, jgurley@northwestern.edu

Staring at the Dogwood Trees is an original musical written and directed by Harrison Lewis and produced by Sami Devries. When Hunter is abruptly sent home from college, he must reconcile the social differences between his liberal Northern university and conservative Southern hometown. Torn between two worlds, he struggles to find emotional freedom in his newfound identity while maintaining a relationship with his family. STARING AT THE DOGWOOD TREES follows Hunter as he relives his time at home through a series of memories and tries to come to terms with his past.

The Impermanence of All Things

When: Friday, 6/3/22, 7:30–9:30 PM (CT)

Where: Patrick G. and Shirley W. Ryan Center for the Musical Arts, Galvin Recital Hall, 70 Arts Circle, Evanston, IL 60208

Cost: $6 (General Public), $4 (NU Students)

Contact: Concert Management Office, 847-467-4000, events.music@northwestern.edu

Cost: $20 (Walkers), $50 (Chip-Timed Run)

Contact: Lurie Cancer Center, cancer@northwestern.edu

After two years of celebrating virtually, Lurie Cancer Center and Northwestern Medicine will welcome cancer survivors and supporters back to Grant Park on Sunday, June 5, 2022 for the 29th Annual Cancer Survivors' Celebration Walk and 5K! Held on National Cancer Survivors Day, the event is a one-of-a-kind opportunity for people who have faced or are facing cancer to connect as a community and celebrate milestones with the families, friends, physicians, scientists, and care providers who support them every step of the way. The celebration is open to everyone whose life has been touched by cancer, regardless of where they were treated. Highlights include a non-competitive walk or chip-timed 5K race along Chicago's lakefront, T-shirts, music and entertainment, inspiring speakers, activities for the family, and an opportunity to share a message on the Dedication Wall.

Death Studies Reading Group: "Reading as if for Death" & On the Beach

When: Friday, 6/10/22, 1:00–2:00 PM (CT)

Where: Crowe Hall, Room 1140, 1860 Campus Drive, Evanston, IL 60208

Cost: Free

Contact: Mel Keiser, 847-491-7077, mel.keiser@northwestern.edu

Sharon Marcus' "Reading as if for Death" asks how people live in the face of imminent death by analyzing Nevil Shute's 1957 novel On the Beach. In contrast to representations of mortality that emphasize transcendence and enlightenment, On the Beach sympathetically conveys the combination of certainty and uncertainty that most of its characters endure in living their final days and depicts characters for whom denial, refusing to see what is, and delusion, believing in what is not, become forms of palliative care. In addition to reading Marcus' article, participants are asked to watch the film adaptation of On the Beach. Catherine Belling (Associate Professor of Medical Education and co-convenor of the Death Studies Research Group) will lead us in a conversation about these two works.

Dance Nation

When: 7/29-7/31/22, Time Varies

Where: Josephine Louis Theater, 20 Arts Circle Drive, Evanston, IL

Cost: $15 (General Public), $10 (NU Students)

Contact: Wirtz Center, 847-491-7282, wirtz@northwestern.edu

Somewhere in America, an army of pre-teen competitive dancers plots to take over the world. And if their new routine is good enough, they'll claw their way to the top at Nationals in Tampa Bay. A play about ambition, growing up, and how to find our souls in the heat of it all.

Aug 1 to Aug 5, 9:00 AM – 12:00 PM, $325

In this course, we introduce children 5 to 8 years old to dinghy sailing. The course is designed to help young children feel at ease on the water and be comfortable in boats. The emphasis is on the sights, sounds, and feel of sailing. Since the objective of the course is to get the students to feel comfortable sailing, the class will not sail on days with threatening weather, such as rain or high winds. Instead, the class will partake in land activities to further their nautical knowledge.

Art Exhibitions and Discussions

A Site of Struggle: American Art Against Anti-Black Violence

When: Wednesday, 1/26-7/10/22, 12:00–8:00PM (CT)

Where: Block Museum of Art, Mary and Leigh, 40 Arts Circle Drive, Evanston IL 60208

Cost: Free

Contact: Lindsay Bosch, Lindsay.bosch@northwestern.edu

Images of African American suffering and death have constituted an enduring part of the nation's cultural landscape, and the development of creative counterpoints to these images has been an ongoing concern for American artists. A Site of Struggle takes a new approach to looking at the intersection of race, violence, and art by investigating the varied strategies American artists have used to grapple with anti-Black violence, ranging from representation to abstraction and from literal to metaphorical. The exhibition focuses on works created between the 1890s and 2013—situating contemporary artistic practice within a longer history of American art and visual culture. It foregrounds African Americans as active shapers of visual culture and highlights how art has been used to protest, process, mourn, and memorialize anti-Black violence.

Theater/Film Screenings

Staring at the Dogwood Trees

When: Friday, 6/3-6/5/22, All Day

Where: Annie May Swift Hall, Krause Studio, 1920 Campus Drive

Cost: Free

Contact: Jenny Gurley, jgurley@northwestern.edu

Staring at the Dogwood Trees is an original musical written and directed by Harrison Lewis and produced by Sami Devries. When Hunter is abruptly sent home from college, he must reconcile the social differences between his liberal Northern university and conservative Southern hometown. Torn between two worlds, he struggles to find emotional freedom in his newfound identity while maintaining a relationship with his family. STARING AT THE DOGWOOD TREES follows Hunter as he relives his time at home through a series of memories and tries to come to terms with his past.

Letters2Maybe Film Screening

When: Monday, 6/6/22, 3:45–5:30 PM (CT)

Where: Rebecca Crown Center, Hardin Hall, 633 Clark Street, Evanston

Cost: Free

Contact: Ariel Schwartz, ariel.schwartz@northwestern.edu

Letters2Maybe offers an intimate portrayal of those who refuse to surrender amidst daily devastation and culminating strife, offering a vision for equality and a renewed sense of solidarity in a divisive country. Letters2Maybe offers a fluid and eclectic tapestry of physical and emotional movement of different immigrant communities as they encounter impossible challenges in a country of compounded catastrophes. By embracing a kaleidoscopic style of storytelling to highlight the poetics and precarity that follow the craving for freedom, Letters2Maybe is an unfinished letter, articulating the ever-growing yet unflinching demand for justice and tenderness in our world today.

Book Reviews and Discussions

One Book One Northwestern Clime Change-Themed MFA Reading

When: Thursday, 6/9/22, 6:00–7:30 PM (CT)

Leisure and Social

Cancer Survivors' Celebration Walk & 5K

When: Sunday, 6/5/22, 8:30–11:30 AM (CT)

Where: Arvey Field, Grant Park, Chicago, IL 60611

Cost: $20 (Walkers), $50 (Chip-Timed Run)

Contact: Lurie Cancer Center, cancer@northwestern.edu

After two years of celebrating virtually, Lurie Cancer Center and Northwestern Medicine will welcome cancer survivors and supporters back to Grant Park on Sunday, June 5, 2022 for the 29th Annual Cancer Survivors' Celebration Walk and 5K! Held on National Cancer Survivors Day, the event is a one-of-kind opportunity for people who have faced or are facing cancer to connect as a community and celebrate milestones with the families, friends, physicians, scientists, and care providers who support them every step of the way. The celebration is open to everyone whose life has been touched by cancer, regardless of where they were treated. Highlights include a non-competitive walk or chip-timed 5K race along Chicago's lakefront, T-shirts, music and entertainment, inspiring speakers, activities for the family, and an opportunity to share a message on the Dedication Wall.

Community Movie Night – Save the Date!

When: Thursday, 8/4/22, 6:00 PM (CT)

Where: Ryan Field, 1501 Central St, Evanston, IL 60208

Cost: Free (Entrance + Parking)

Contact: Shayla Butler, shayla.butler@northwestern.edu

Northwestern Athletics in partnership with Northwestern University's Office and Neighborhood and Community Relations will host a free showing of a movie (TBD) on August 4th as part of its annual Community Movie Night at Ryan Field. Attendees are encouraged to bring blankets and pillows to the event. Attendees are also encouraged to register for the event and to reach out with any questions or concerns!

Around Campus

Ice Skating at the New Robert Crown Community Center

Students, faculty and staff have access to the rinks and free skate rental during open skating hours at the Robert Crown Community Center!

Design + Innovation for Social Change (DISC)

Contact: disc@u.northwestern.edu

DISC is a student club at Northwestern that aims to employ technology as a means of making tangible progress for social good in the community. In the past year, we worked on projects for the Levy Senior Center Foundation and World Relief Chicago to enhance the platforms and technologies of these social-impact-oriented organizations.

DISC is currently looking for new tech-related projects to take on for the upcoming year. We will work on projects from January until the end of our school year, in the middle of June. If you don't believe your project can be completed in time, we would be more than happy to work with you for more than one year if more work needs to be done! This service would be completely free. Please feel free to reach out with any potential projects of questions.

Dearborn Observatory Public Viewing

Where: Dearborn Observatory, 2131 Tech Drive, Evanston

Contact: Yassaman Shemirani, 847-491-7650,
yassaman.shemirani@northwestern.edu

The Dearborn Observatory is open for public viewing every Friday night from 9 to 10 PM during the fall and winter months (Sept-Mar). The sessions are free and open to all. All visitors should note that the dome is neither heated nor air-conditioned so please dress appropriately. Friday evening sessions are held "rain or shine." Unfortunately, the Dearborn is not ADA-accessible.

NU China Care Playgroup/Mentorship Events

When: Saturdays (Date TBD)

Where: Online

Contact: Grace Liu, graceliu2023@u.northwestern.edu

China Care is an independent, student-run Northwestern service club dedicated to supporting and contributing to the lives of Chinese children in the Chicagoland area. However, all families interested in learning about Chinese culture are encouraged to partake in the events. China Care club members host playgroups events that consist of a variety of cultural activities (cooking lessons, arts-and-crafts, games) and educational lessons based on different aspects of Chinese culture, ranging from Chinese history to Asian foods. China Care families are also encouraged to apply for a college mentor for their child through the NU China Care Mentorship Program. Please visit the China Care website to learn more about the organization or email Grace to sign up for the China Care listserv—where you will receive regular newsletter updates of upcoming events.

Apply for Jumpstart

Contact: Rabeya Mallick, rabeya.mallick@jstart.org

Jumpstart Corps members serve an average of 10-14 hours/week in Evanston and Rogers Park preschools, working with children to support language, literacy, and socio-emotional development. Corps members receive comprehensive training and support and develop leadership and team-building skills working with peers. Eligible work-study students receive $13/hour compensation. Non-work-study students receive unlimited transit (CTA) fare during the program. All students can earn a $1289 Segal AmeriCorps education award to use toward student loans or future study. Students must be available on Mondays & Wednesdays OR Tuesdays & Thursdays from 2:30-5:30pm.

Community Council for International Students (CCIS)

Where: The International Office, 630 Dartmouth Place, Evanston

Contact: Norman Axelrad, normaxe29@gmail.com, 847-673-6727
Sylvia Alvino, sylalvino@yahoo.com, 847-328-7516

CCIS is continuously looking for local volunteers who may be alums, neighbors, retired, or merely interested in meeting young people from other countries. CCIS has a series of personalized informal cultural immersion programs provided by local volunteers who meet with Northwestern University international graduate students, visiting scholars, post-doctoral fellows, and their families. We are also looking for a few good volunteers with business experience in areas including marketing, writing, photography, public relations, planning, and technology to support our ongoing activities. Apply at <https://tinyurl.com/ccisvolunteer>

The Alumnae of Northwestern University

The Alumnae offers intellectually stimulating, noncredit courses to the public at a modest cost. Each year more than 3,000 people enroll in these courses, taught virtually during COVID-19 by renowned University faculty. For more information about upcoming courses, visit The Alumnae website www.nualumnae.org.

Purple Pantry

Northwestern Music Academy

Learn more online

For more than 70 years, Northwestern University's Music Academy in Evanston has provided music instruction to children and adult students from surrounding communities and the greater Chicago and Northwest Indiana area.

Most Academy instructors also teach in the Henry and Leigh Bienen School of Music and hold masters and doctoral degrees in music teaching and performance. The Academy often serves as a teaching laboratory for college students enrolled in pedagogy courses and is a member of the National Guild of Community Schools of the Arts.

Kindermusik (newborn to age 6)

Dates: Term starts Feb 5, 2022 and ends May 14, 2022

Cost: $300-355 (15-week class and home materials)

This 45-minute class is a lovely way for young children and parents to interact. Multi-level activities that are appropriate for each stage of a child's development give lap babies, crawlers, and walkers a chance to explore music, touch, sound, and movement. Home materials including a CD, a book related to the theme of the unit, and an instrument provide additional ideas for sharing the class experience at home.

Other Courses

(offered virtually and in-person Spring Quarter)

Piano and Organ

The Music Academy Piano Division offers pre-piano class, which serves as an introduction to more formal piano instruction: keyboard instruction in two tracks for students ages 6 to 18, and instruction for adults. Pre-piano serves as an introduction to more formal piano instruction. Keyboard instruction for children begins with pre-staff music and expands to landmark-based intervallic reading. After the first year of study, most children participate in the Illinois State Music Teacher's Association curriculum assessment, where they demonstrate skills and receive certificates and pins for participation.

Strings

The String Division offers private lessons in violin, viola, and cello, with goals of both providing musical instruction and instilling a love of music and of learning music. The division believes that all children can learn to their potential when placed in an environment that includes clear instruction, an involved parent, and regular opportunities to listen to and perform.

Voice (Adults)

The Music Academy has canceled chorus rehearsals and voice classes for spring 2022 due to COVID-19. Northwestern plans to open registration for adult Voice Classes and Chorus later this summer in preparation for fall quarter 2022. Hope to see you then!

Norris Outdoors

Norris University Center offers a wide range of equipment available to rent for your outdoor adventures including:

Speakers and Presentations

2022 Northwestern Buffett Idea Incubation Showcase

When: Wednesday, 6/1/22, 4:00–5:30 PM (CT)

Where: 1800 Sherman Ave., Northwestern Buffett Event Space, Evanston, IL 60201

Contact: Ariel Schwartz, ariel.schwartz@northwestern.edu

Over the last year, the Northwestern Roberta Buffett Institute for Global Affairs has engaged more than 70 researchers from 27 Northwestern University departments and 9 Northwestern schools in its Idea Incubation Process. The process offers Northwestern faculty unique opportunities to explore global problems and workshop solutions alongside practitioners, community partners and scholars from across disciplines. It encourages intellectual risk-taking, promotes dialogue around provocative new research questions, and catalyzes creative research projects with the potential for real-world impact. On Wednesday, June 1, Northwestern Buffett will host a showcase of the research projects stemming from its 2021-22 Idea Incubation Process. The showcase will feature faculty presentations on collaborative, transnational research projects Northwestern Buffett will support in the coming year, as well as commentary from the panel of experts who judged the merits of this year's project proposals on the basis of their potential for societal impact. The showcase will also offer faculty updates from Northwestern Buffett's existing Global Working Groups and the projects they proposed for the 2019-20 and 2020-21 Idea Incubation Workshops.

Getting to the Heart of Technology Ethics

When: Wednesday, 6/1/22, 4:00–5:30 PM (CT)

Where: Mudd Library, Room 3514, 2233 Tech Drive, Evanston, IL 60208

Contact: Ruth Curry, ruth.martin@northwestern.edu

Universities play a major role in the formative preparation of engineers going into the workplace. Yet, despite an explosion in promises to bring more and better ethics into the technology industry, little appears to be changing as the issues continue to accelerate. Over the past four years, Dr. Skirpan has designed ethics curriculum for over 30 courses at Carnegie Mellon and teaches his own practical ethics class that offers both skills (framed as mental habits) and mentorship around what to really expect in the workplace and how to deal with the personal dilemmas at the heart of many professional decisions. During this talk, he will walk through examples of the novel approaches he employs when teaching ethics with CMU engineering students, share lessons learned, and conclude with open discussion on what we can do as practitioners, mentors, and teachers in order to move the needle of ethics in technology and engineering fields.

Ecological Grief: Loss, Mourning, and Imagining Alternative Futures

When: Thursday, 6/2/22, 12:00-1:30 PM (CT)

In a 2018 article in Nature Climate Change, Ashlee Consulo and Neville Ellis used the term “ecological grief” to describe “the grief felt in relation to experienced or anticipated ecological losses, including the loss of species, ecosystems, and meaningful landscapes due to acute or chronic environmental change.” As communities the world over endure one crisis after another, that such grief can be experienced at both individual and collective levels is hardly surprising, and it serves as a stark reminder that environmental change is not a future or distant issue; rather, it is here and now, and often deeply personal. In the face of the very real losses that we will continue to face, how do we acknowledge this grief, while also avoiding a sense of cynicism or resignation to an ecological dystopia. In this event, we will discuss how we might respond to ecological grief in ways that work towards alternative futures that embody a more-than-human co-existence.

The Poetics of Plants in Spanish American Literature

In The Poetics of Plants in Spanish American Literature, Lesley Wylie examines the defining role of plants in cultural expression across Latin America, particularly in literature. From the colonial georgic to Pablo Neruda's Canto general, Lesley Wylie's close study of botanical imagery demonstrates the fundamental role of the natural world and the relationship between people and plants in the region. Plants are also central to literary forms originating in the Americas, such as the New World Baroque, described by Alejo Carpentier as “nacido de árboles.” The book establishes how vegetal imaginaries are key to Spanish American attempts to renovate European forms and traditions as well as to the reconfiguration of the relationship between humans and nonhumans. Such a reconfiguration, which persistently draws on indigenous animist ontologies to blur the boundaries between people and plants, anticipates much contemporary ecological thinking about our responsibility towards nonhuman nature and shows how environmental thinking by way of plants has a long history in Latin American literature.

Each year, the Keyman Modern Turkish Studies Program brings together scholars from around the world to discuss some of the most pressing issues facing Turkey from a global perspective. This year the conference's theme is "Heritage." UNESCO defines cultural heritage, in its broadest sense, as "both a product and a process, which provides societies with a wealth of resources that are inherited from the past, created in the present and bestowed for the benefit of future generations." We take this conception as a starting point for both reflection and critique. Heritage studies are at an important juncture as discussions of colonialism, repatriation, illegal trafficking of antiquities, threats to heritage of minority groups, damage to architectural monuments, and cultural erasure due to armed conflict around the world take center stage not only in academia, but also in popular media. Within the purview of this conference, we follow a capacious and interdisciplinary approach to questions of heritage, including tangible, intangible, and natural heritage within the territory of contemporary Turkey and surrounding regions.

Mapping the Fringe Economy: How the Fringe Economy Shapes Inclusion

The United States has two disparate economies: one for the poor and credit-poor that is used disproportionately by racial minorities, and another for (predominantly white) well-resourced individuals and households. I contribute to the increasing conversations about American inequality by highlighting one of its primary causes: extractive markets. This talk explores the links between exposure to financial services such as pawnshops, check-cashing outlets, and payday loans (collectively known as the fringe economy) and democratic inclusion. Lenders and financial actors offer necessary services, often on exploitative terms, that limit or eliminate their long-term benefits for racial minorities, the poor, and the credit-poor. I leverage the locations of mainstream and alternative financial services to highlight how the local availability of financial services is racialized in distinct ways from the class composition of neighborhoods. I show individuals in fringe economy neighborhoods develop service-specific beliefs about the predatory nature of the services and government responsiveness, which inform broader political orientations. These findings show the disparate economic vulnerabilities of racial minorities; and how racialized political economy reinforces an individuals' status in the sociopolitical hierarchy. Together, they point to the centrality of access to financial services in the study of race and political economy.

Crisis and Solidarity: A Conversation with Yehuda Sharim and Vilna Bashi Treitler

When: Tuesday, 6/7/22, 12:00—1:30 PM (CT)

Where: 1800 Sherman Ave, Suite 3-000, Evanston, IL 60201

Contact: Ariel Schwartz, ariel.schwartz@northwestern.edu

Crisis is all around us. In the USA, we live with unnecessary violence and death against poor and nonwhite communities, stark and worsening economic inequality, increased child poverty, youth self-harm and suicide, and many other painful social ills. Covid-19 still ravages our populations more than two years after its discovery, populism and dictatorship have not relented, drought and wildfires expanded, and refugee crises abound. In these circumstances, we can build and strengthen our interpersonal and international solidarities. Yehuda Sharim and Vilna Bashi Treitler, strong believers in self-love and love for our fellows in struggle, will discuss their solidarity with one another and the communities in which they live and move, and invite the audience to join in on the conversation.
