

Northwestern
OFFICE OF FELLOWSHIPS

Fellowship Winners 2022-23

Welcome to Northwestern University's Office of Fellowships!

You may wonder what a fellowship is. A fellowship can be

- a grant for a creative or research project
- a scholarship for an academic qualification
- an internship for professional development

What makes a grant, scholarship, or internship a fellowship is the cohort of people chosen to develop their talents together with guidance from mentors, through group activities, and in support of a larger goal.

This booklet lists the hundreds of Northwestern students and alumni who secured external funding during the 2022–23 academic year to create, research, study, and intern through fellowships across the country and around the globe.

Fellowships are listed in five categories:

- those requiring students to apply first to Northwestern for endorsement before applying to a national competition
- those offering international experiences by taking recipients outside the United States
- those taking recipients off campus to destinations within the United States
- those funding student activities on campus
- those funded by alumni donors

We want you to join these fellowship winners and help us paint the world purple, one Wildcat at a time!

Elizabeth Lewis Pardoe, PhD
Director

*Year in parentheses after school name indicates date of receiving degree.
Abbreviated year after winner's name indicates current undergraduate class year.*

Meet some of our undergraduate winners

Upon completing her bachelor's degree last spring in social policy, Maayan Abouzaglo is spending this academic year as an English teaching assistant through the Fulbright US Student Program. Abouzaglo is one of several Wildcats who helped keep Northwestern among the top annual producers of Fulbright winners.

As a graduating senior last year, materials science and engineering major Jaime Berkovich won a National Defense Science and Engineering Graduate Fellowship, which he is using this year to help fund his doctoral studies in the same academic discipline at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Senior Chloe Fisher, a physics student in the Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences, was one of several Wildcats to travel to Germany last summer to work as a research assistant for a PhD student through the popular Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst Research Internship in Science and Engineering.

Asiah Florczak, a philosophy junior, traveled to State College, Pennsylvania, last summer to participate in the Cultivating Underrepresented Students in Philosophy Summer Institute, hosted by the department of philosophy at Pennsylvania State University, where she learned how to build a career in academia.

Saahir Ganti-Agrawal, who graduated last year from the McCormick School of Engineering and Applied Science, is one of many Wildcats who won a grant from the National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship Program, which offers tuition support, a stipend, and additional research funds. Ganti-Agrawal is currently a PhD student at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

With tuition support from the Benjamin A. Gilman International Scholarship, graduating senior Tomas Gordo-Churchill studied last year in Jordan. Tomas, a Middle East and North African studies and economics double major in Weinberg College, is one of several Northwestern students to win this award last year.

Biological sciences major Kelly Teitel traveled last summer to Richland, Washington, to serve as a research assistant through the Department of Energy Science Undergraduate Laboratory Internships. Teitel was one of a remarkable 19 Wildcats to conduct research beyond Northwestern's campus through this government-funded program.

Donor-Funded Fellowships

Findlay Fellowship

Madeline Brown
American Studies, Weinberg (2023)
Study—England

The Findlay Fellowship provides financial support to a recent Northwestern undergraduate pursuing graduate study in the United Kingdom. The fellowship was endowed through a generous gift from Northwestern trustee Cameron Findlay (left, with Brown) and his wife, Amy Scalera Findlay.

Roger Boye Oxbridge Bursary

Kendall Clark
German, Weinberg (2023)
Study—England

The Roger Boye Oxbridge Bursary honors Medill associate professor emeritus-in-service Roger Boye (right, with Clark), who, as chair of the British Scholarship Committee, offered unstinting support to Wildcats embarking on graduate study at the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge.

Clark and Hinman Foundation Fellowship

Leila Stoll '25 (left)
Economics and Psychology, Weinberg
Internship—Oakland, California

Tibi Zabasajja '25 (right)
Political Science, Weinberg
Internship—Lawrenceville, New Jersey

The Clark and Hinman Foundation Fellowship supports summer activities for applicants who display academic excellence and dedication to strengthening the principles of civil society.

Meet some of our graduate student winners

History PhD candidate Morgan Barry won two awards last year—the Carrie Chapman Catt Prize for Research on Women and Politics and the Littleton-Griswold Research Grant for Research in US Legal History—to support dissertation research on how ideas about race, gender, and sexuality shaped surveillance and political repression in 20th-century America.

Celeo Matute Diaz, a PhD student in materials science and engineering, is one of several Wildcats to win the GEM Employer Fellows award, which supports graduate-level education for students from underrepresented backgrounds and provides professional work experience for at least one summer.

The Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council Doctoral Fellowships will support the political science doctoral research of Emerson Murray. A student from Canada, Murray is working on a dissertation about the influence of settler-colonial imaginaries on postimperial British state formation.

Hailing from Mexico, Cordelia Rizzo participated last summer in the Center for US–Mexican Studies Fellows Program. A performance studies PhD student, Rizzo enjoyed the program’s efforts to gather fellows from the social sciences to engage with University of California San Diego students and faculty and the larger cross-border community.

Along with recent Wildcat alums who won the award, the Fulbright US Student Program also funds graduate students. Jesse Rothbard, a PhD candidate in Spanish and Portuguese, pursued the Fulbright to fund archival research throughout the academic year in Brazil, where he aspires to make an intervention in Latin American queer historiography.

Thanks to support from the Dorothy W. Collin Fellowship in the History of the Book, PhD candidate in history Holly Swenson traveled to Australia to conduct archival research for her dissertation, which constructs a history of media exports to Australia from Britain—from hit television shows to guides for how to garden.

Emma Zajdela just completed her doctorate in engineering sciences and applied mathematics and is now teaching at Princeton University through the Intelligence Community Postdoctoral Research Fellowship Program, a partnership between the High Meadows Environmental Institute and the Center for Policy Research on Energy and the Environment.
