Change the Face of Medicine
Join the All of Us Research Program at Northwestern

Northwestern Medicine is excited to announce our partnership with the All of Us Research Program, from the National Institutes of Health (NIH).

The mission of the All of Us Research Program is simple: to speed up health research and medical breakthroughs. To do this, All of Us is asking one million people to share their health data to build the largest health database of its kind. Researchers can use this data to conduct thousands of studies. This may help them find the next big medical breakthrough.

Volunteers Needed
We encourage you to schedule your research visit with the All of Us Research Program. By joining, you can help shape the future of health for generations to come.

Visit nm.org/joinallofus to sign up and to learn more.

What Would I Need to Do?
- Complete our survey to sign up
- Create an account, review the consent, and agree to securely share your Electronic Health Records (EHR) with the All of Us database
- Complete three questionnaires about lifestyle, environment, and health history
- Visit an All of Us Participant Center for physical measurements (blood pressure, height, weight, waist/hip, & heart rate) and biosamples (blood & urine)

Total Time Commitment: 60 - 90 minutes

What Are the Benefits of Joining?
- You may learn more about your health than ever before.
- You may also learn how to use tools like mobile devices, cell phones and tablets, to encourage healthier habits.
- Help researchers discover how different factors, like environment, lifestyle, and genes, can impact health. This may help develop new medical treatments that are unique to each person.
- Participants receive a $25 payment for completing all research components.
• Complimentary parking is also available for your research visit.

Together let’s create a healthier future for all of us. We hope you’ll join us in this historic research effort.
