OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL STUDENT AND SCHOLAR SERVICES

H-1B/ E-3 employers must agree to pay the "required wage rate," which is defined as the higher of two figures: the actual wage rate and the prevailing wage rate.

To fully comply with the requirement:

- 1) The department determines the actual wage rate and documents the process (Actual Wage Memo).
- 2) OISS determines the prevailing wage rate and documents the process.
- 3) NU compares the two wage rates and pays the higher of the two during the H-1B/ E-3 and LCA validity periods.

ACTUAL WAGE MEMO

The actual wage rate for an H-1B or E-3 employee is the range of wages paid by the employer to all employees with similar experiences and qualifications for the same role in the same place of employment. Beneficiaries CANNOT be the lowest paid employee in the role, if similarly employed.

Certification Regarding the Release of Controlled Technology or Technical Data to Foreign Persons in the United States

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY POLICY

Northwestern University is committed to freedom of access by all interested persons to the underlying data, processes, and final research results through publication and broad dissemination of those results. Consistent with this approach, Northwestern does not undertake secret or classified research whose results may not be published without prior approval by the sponsor. Additionally, unless prohibited by law, no restriction of participation in research may be based on one's country of origin or citizenship.

Some research activities are excluded from export controls because of a general exception for fundamental research provided in the National Policy on the Transfer of Scientific, Technical, and Engineering Information as set forth in National Security Decision Directive 189. Fundamental research is basic and applied research in science and/or engineering where the resulting information is ordinarily published and shared broadly in the scientific community. By not accepting any restriction on publication or foreign nationals, Northwestern maintains the fundamental research exclusion.

For further information please see Northwestern University's Export Controls and International Compliance website.

DEPARTMENT AUTHORIZATIONS

I hereby certify that the technology or technical data released or otherwise provided access to the beneficiary is considered fundamental research. This fundamental research is in compliance with Northwestern University policy. A license from the U.S. Department of State or The U.S. Department of Commerce is NOT required to release such technology or technical data to a foreign national.

I have read and acknowledge the information provided on the second page of this form and will keep it for my records.

If there are any changes in the release of technology or technical data to the beneficiary during the term of the beneficiary's employment. I will contact the Office for Sponsored Research and the Office of the General Counsel for approval.

FURTHER INFORMATION ON DEEMED EXPORT CONTROL

U.S. Export Controls on Release of Controlled Technology or Technical Data to Foreign Persons

The Export Administration Regulations (EAR) and the International Traffic in Arms Regulations (ITAR) require authorization from the U.S. Government before releasing controlled technology or technical data to foreign persons. The release of controlled technology or technical data to foreign persons, even within the United States by an employer is a “deemed” export to the person’s country(s) of nationality. U.S. entities, including universities, must seek and receive a license or exemption from the U.S. Federal Government before releasing controlled technology or technical data to non-U.S. persons. This includes but is not limited to nonimmigrant workers employed as H-1B, L-1, or O-1A beneficiaries.

Requirement to Certify Compliance with U.S. Export Control Regulations

The U.S. Government requires each company or entity to certify that it has reviewed the EAR and ITAR and determined whether it will require a U.S. Government export license to release controlled technology or technical data to the beneficiary. If an export license is required, then the company or other entity must further certify that it will not release or otherwise provide the beneficiary access to controlled technology or technical data until it has received U.S. Government authorization. The petitioner must indicate whether a license is required on Page 6, Part 7 of Form I-129.

U.S. Export Controls on Release of Controlled Technology or Technical Data to Foreign Persons

The export regulations (Commerce Control List (CCL) and the ITAR’s U.S. Munitions List (USML) control the release of technology and technical data to foreign persons even within the United States. But most technology is not highly controlled and can be exported or released to foreign persons. Therefore, the licensing requirements affect only a small percentage of petitioners for their activities at Northwestern University.

CCL: The EAR-controlled technology on the CCL generally pertains to that which is for the production, development, or use of what is basically known as “dual use” items. See the link for details: <https://www.ecfr.gov/current/title-15/subtitle-B/chapter-VII/subchapter-C/part-774>. The U.S. Department of Commerce’s Bureau of Industry and Security (BIS) administers the CCL. BIS is responsible for issuing licenses for the release to foreign persons of technology controlled under the EAR. Contact Export Controls & International Compliance for assistance.

USML: The ITAR-controlled technical data on the USML generally pertains to that which is directly related to defense articles. See link for details: <https://www.ecfr.gov/current/title-22/chapter-I/subchapter-M/part-121>. The U.S. Department of State’s Directorate of Defense Trade Controls (DDTC) administers the USML and is responsible for issuing licenses for the release to foreign persons of technical data controlled under the ITAR. Contact Export Controls & International Compliance for assistance.
