Policy on Drugs and Alcohol 2011–12

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Federal laws mandate the creation and maintenance of academic and working environments free from illicit drug use and alcohol abuse. Northwestern University fully supports the objectives of these laws and their companion regulations.

The policy statement the University issued in March 1989 to comply with the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 is contained in this document as well as in the Student Handbook. University regulations pertaining to alcohol and drugs are also found in the Faculty and Staff Handbooks. All these remain in effect. This booklet on the Northwestern University Policy on Drugs and Alcohol provides further amplification of the policy statements in the student and employee handbooks; these handbooks can be found at www.northwestern.edu/hr/policies and www.northwestern.edu/student-conduct/conduct/handbook.html.

This document is pursuant to the Drug-Free Workplace Act of 1988 and the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act Amendments of 1989. It is intended to ensure the University's satisfaction of its legal obligations under that legislation.

*Morton Schapiro
President
December 2011*

Northwestern University policy prohibits the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by its students and employees on University property, as part of any University activities, in vehicles owned or operated by the University, or at any work site or other location at which University duties are being performed by Northwestern employees.

Likewise, Northwestern University is committed to maintaining a drug-free workplace in compliance with applicable laws. For employees (including student employees), violation of this policy may result in the imposition of employment disciplines defined for specific employee categories by existing University policies, statutes, rules, regulations, employment contracts, and labor agreements. Any employee convicted of a drug offense involving the workplace will be subject to employee discipline up to and including termination of employment and/or required as a condition of continued employment to satisfactorily complete a drug rehabilitation program.

As a condition of continued employment, an employee of Northwestern must notify his or her supervisor within 5 business days of conviction for a criminal drug offense involving the workplace. The supervisor will be responsible for notifying the appropriate HR consultant. In the event any such conviction involves an employee working on a federal contract or grant, the University will notify the granting or contracting federal agency within 10 days of receiving notice of a conviction.

The use of alcohol and other drugs may pose serious health risks and, moreover, is related to secondhand effects including absenteeism, poor academic performance, crime, and illness or injury. Medical care and health promotion services for students are provided by the University Health Service (847-491-8100) and Health Promotion and Wellness (847-491-2146), while counseling services for students are offered through Counseling and Psychological Services (847-491-2151). Employees are encouraged to contact the Faculty and Staff Assistance Program provided by Perspectives, Ltd. (800-456-6327). Services and programs available to the Northwestern community are described in Appendices A and B.

For more detailed information on the health risks associated with substance abuse, please consult Appendix C, a U.S. Department of Education summary of health risks associated with alcohol, and Appendix D, a summary of health risks associated with controlled substances, prepared by the U.S. Department of Justice.

Various local, state, and federal laws govern the possession and distribution (trafficking) of drugs and alcohol. Appendix E, also from the U.S. Department of Justice, shows the penalties under federal law for trafficking in controlled substances and marijuana. Appendix F provides the federal penalties for illegal possession of a controlled substance. Appendix G describes the sanctions for trafficking in controlled substances under Illinois law, while Appendix H lists the Illinois penalties for trafficking in or possession of marijuana. Appendix I describes the Illinois sanctions for possession of a controlled substance. Appendix J provides information about the Title IV federal financial aid penalties associated with drug-related offenses.

In addition to the sanctions listed in the appendices, the following additional penalties are prescribed by Illinois law:

- Conviction of a second or subsequent offense under the Controlled Substances Act may result in imprisonment, a fine, or both, up to double the maximum otherwise authorized. A prior conviction under federal law or the law of any other state makes a conviction under Illinois law a second offense.
- Conviction for “cannabis trafficking” of 2,500 grams or more or for “controlled substance trafficking” (i.e., bringing these items into Illinois for purposes of manufacture or delivery) may result in a prison term of at least twice the minimum and up to twice the maximum term otherwise authorized and a fine of up to twice the authorized amount.
- Delivery of a controlled substance by a person over 18 to a person under 18 who is at least 3 years younger may result in imprisonment for up to twice the maximum term.
- Delivery of cannabis (marijuana or hashish) by a person over 18 to a person under 18 who is at least 3 years younger may result in imprisonment for up to twice the maximum term.
- A person over 18 who uses another person under 18 to deliver controlled substances may be imprisoned for twice the maximum term.
- Violation of provisions of the Controlled Substances Act in, on, or within 1,000 feet of the grounds of any school or public housing complex will increase the felony status (and prison term) and the applicable fine.
- Participation in any conspiracy with respect to cannabis may result in imprisonment for two to five years and a fine of up to $200,000 plus certain forfeitures.

- Possession of cannabis plants may result, depending on the number of plants, in prison terms of up to seven years and fines of up to $100,000 plus costs.
- Conviction under the Controlled Substances Act or the Cannabis Control Act, in addition to all other penalties, will result in a fine of not less than the full street value of the items seized.

In addition to the sanctions listed in the appendices, the following additional penalties are prescribed by Illinois law for alcohol and alcohol-related offenses:

- Illinois law provides for a prison term of up to one year and for a fine of up to $1,000 for knowingly providing alcohol to persons under 21 or for providing false evidence of age or identity.
- Persons under 21 who present or offer false evidence for purposes of obtaining or purchasing alcohol may be jailed for up to six months and fined up to $500. The same penalties apply to possession of alcohol by a person under 21 on or in any street or public place.
- Minors who consume alcohol are subject to prison terms of up to 30 days and fines of up to $500.

Under city of Evanston ordinances, possession of 10 grams or less of cannabis by a person under age 17 may result in a fine of up to $500.

In addition to possible prosecution under the aforementioned laws, students or employees who violate the prohibitions of this policy are subject to University-imposed disciplinary sanctions consistent with applicable procedures and regulations. Sanctions may include, but need not be limited to, suspension, expulsion, termination of employment, or referral to appropriate authorities for prosecution. Any disciplinary sanction imposed may also include the completion of an appropriate rehabilitation program as a condition of reinstatement or continued employment.

Northwestern University will regularly monitor its drug and alcohol abuse prevention program to determine its effectiveness, to implement any necessary changes, and to ensure that its disciplinary sanctions are consistently enforced.

Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)

Northwestern's Counseling and Psychological Services provides counseling, crisis intervention, consultation, and outreach services for the University's students, including services related to drug and alcohol abuse. CAPS offers a variety of treatment alternatives depending upon the level of intervention needed.

A student seeking such assistance from CAPS is screened during an assessment interview for his or her level of alcohol and substance use. Based on the initial consultation and/or assessment, CAPS may refer the student to community resources specializing in alcohol or substance abuse treatment. For a student covered by Northwestern's student insurance plan, CAPS professional staff may authorize use of that policy for inpatient, day-hospital, or outpatient services. In cases where a student is referred to outside resources and CAPS has written authorization from the student to release information, CAPS professionals may consult with the student's treatment providers and serve as a professional resource for both the student and the provider(s), helping to arrange medical withdrawals, medical clearance for reentry, and follow-up services at CAPS or in the community.

CAPS professionals are also available for consultation with others in the University community who are concerned about a student's use of alcohol or drugs and will assist them in planning how to refer that student for assessment and treatment. CAPS also collaborates and consults regularly with the Office of Health Promotion and Wellness.

For more information about CAPS on the Evanston and Chicago campuses, call 847-491-2151 weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. At other times, on the Evanston campus call the 24-hour crisis line at 847-491-8100; on the Chicago campus call the Northwestern Memorial Hospital Crisis Office at 312-926-8100 for emergency service.

University Health Service: Health Promotion and Wellness

The Northwestern University Health Service (NUHS) has served the Northwestern student community since 1912 and is accredited by the Accreditation Association for Ambulatory Health Care (AAAHC). Conventional medical care, preventative health, and health promotion services are provided to undergraduate, graduate, and professional students.

Health Promotion and Wellness (HPaW), a unit of NUHS, focuses on empowering students to make healthy decisions that enhance their own success and the community's well-being. Emphasis is on behavior areas that are critical during college: alcohol and other drug use, sexual health, and sexual violence prevention. HPaW uses evidence-informed and innovative strategies to develop students' knowledge, attitudes, and skills and to foster a campus environment that supports healthy behaviors and reduces harmful behaviors.

Annual surveys assess student health behaviors, and data are disseminated through trainings, educational workshops, and other presentations.

The following services and programs are among the presentations and training sessions that address alcohol and other drug use:

- Wildcat Voices, Alcohol Choices is part of the Wildcat Welcome Essential NU program required of incoming first-year students.
- AlcoholEdu for College is a web-based alcohol education program required of all incoming undergraduate students before matriculation. In addition, AlcoholEdu for Sanctions is available for students who have experienced a conduct issue related to alcohol.
- BASICS (Brief Alcohol/drug Screening and Intervention for College Students) is a confidential, nonjudgmental personal "check-up" about alcohol and other drug use. Students may self-refer to BASICS by contacting HPaW at 847-491-2146.

- Red Watch Band Training is a bystander intervention program to provide students with the knowledge and skills necessary to identify and intervene effectively in an alcohol-related medical emergency. Students may register for training at www.northwestern.edu/redwatchband.
- The alcohol resources website, www.northwestern.edu/alcohol-resources, provides students, parents, faculty, staff, and neighbors a hub for information, policies, programs, and services related to alcohol and other drugs.

For students who have experienced sexual violence, whether or not alcohol or drug use was involved, HPaW's Center for Awareness, Response, and Education provides information about resources and options, including counseling, health care, reporting and more. CARE also provides training and educational workshops on preventing and responding to sexual violence and on sexuality and healthy relationships. For more information about CARE, see its website, www.northwestern.edu/care.

Faculty and Staff Assistance Program

Any employee of Northwestern who has a drug or alcohol problem is invited to contact the Faculty and Staff Assistance Program to obtain confidential information about assistance. Information includes referrals for assessment, comprehensive inpatient and outpatient treatment programs, and follow-up programs, including Alcoholics Anonymous. Perspectives, Ltd., the program provider, also offers educational programs for Northwestern departments on identifying employees at risk and supporting employees' efforts toward rehabilitation. Its offices are located near the Evanston and Chicago campuses and throughout the metropolitan Chicago area and northwestern Indiana. Call 800-456-6327 during regular business hours to schedule an appointment or any time to speak with a counselor. Counselors are available 24 hours, 7 days a week.

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgment and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Low to moderate doses of alcohol also increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including spouse and child abuse. Moderate to high doses of alcohol cause marked impairments in higher mental functions, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects just described.

Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions. Alcohol withdrawal can be life threatening. Long-term consumption of large quantities of alcohol, particularly when combined with poor nutrition, can also lead to permanent damage to vital organs such as the brain and the liver.

Mothers who drink alcohol during pregnancy may give birth to infants with fetal alcohol syndrome. These infants have irreversible abnormalities and mental retardation. In addition, research indicates that children of alcoholic parents are at greater risk than other youngsters of becoming alcoholics.

The following notice provides information about the Title IV federal financial aid penalties associated with drug-related offenses under section 484(r) of the Higher Education Act. It also describes how to regain eligibility for such financial aid after conviction of a drug-related offense.

As prescribed in Section 484(r), a student convicted of any offense under any federal or state law involving the possession or sale of a controlled substance during a period of enrollment when he or she was receiving any grant, loan, or work assistance under Title IV will be ineligible to receive such assistance for the following period of time:

- For one year from the date of conviction for the first offense involving the possession of a controlled substance
- For two years from the date of conviction for the second offense involving the possession of a controlled substance
- Indefinitely from the date of conviction for the third offense involving the possession of a controlled substance
- For two years from the date of conviction for the first offense involving the sale of a controlled substance
- Indefinitely from the date of conviction for the second offense involving the sale of a controlled substance

A student whose eligibility has been suspended under the previous provision may resume eligibility before the end of the prescribed ineligibility period by one of the following means:

- The student satisfactorily completes a drug rehabilitation program that complies with criteria the secretary of education prescribes and includes two unannounced drug tests
- The conviction is reversed, set aside, or otherwise rendered nugatory.
