

Campus Partner Guide

Interdisciplinary Graduate Assistantships are opportunities for doctoral students supported by The Graduate School (TGS). They offer the chance for students to obtain academic and professional development experience, and to explore special interests in other areas.

Most of the available TGS-funded interdisciplinary GAships now share an application portal.

Campus Partner access:

Campus Partners can access the portal with their NetID and NetID Password

Campus Partner Guide

- Campus Partners are those whose programs host an interdisciplinary GAship.
- Through their NetID, they can see all students who have applied to their program that quarter.
 - Most NetIDs of primary interdisciplinary GAship campus partners have been added. If another person needs access, please email interdisciplinaryGAships@northwestern.edu
- All applications can be accessed under Actions -> Program Review
- TGS will confirm the students are in “good academic standing” and are eligible according to funding regulations before opening your access to the portal.

Northwestern | THE GRADUATE SCHOOL

We regret to inform you that you were not selected for the Alice Kaplan Institute for the Humanities interdisciplinary GAship. We thank you for applying, and as the selection committee had many applicants, they are not providing specific feedback on applications. Please contact interdisciplinaryGAships@northwestern.edu with any questions.

Application Process

- TGS will promote the application portal through social media, TGS Wire, and other newsletters
- TGS will vet all applicants to ensure they meet TGS criteria:
 - Good academic standing
 - Eligible regarding funding and status in program (years 3-5, for example)
- TGS will email campus partners that their applications are ready for review
- Campus partners will conduct their selections
 - Some may request interviews, etc.
 - TGS suggests not making final decisions in the portal until after any selection process
 - If you would like to keep a student on the “waitlist,” please mark them as pending until you make a final decision
- Contact interdisciplinaryGAships@northwestern.edu with any questions
